

When Inner Parts Collide: Typology as a Living Process

An Experiential Jungian Salon
with Dr. Vicky Jo Varner

Wednesday, December 3, 2025 · 19:30

Jungian Salon Geneva

In English

FREE

Found, rue Jean-Dassier 7, 1201 Genève

When Inner Parts Collide: Typology as a Living Process

 An Experiential Jungian Salon with Dr. Vicky Jo Varner

Wednesday, December 3, 2025 · 19:30

 Jungian Salon Geneva

The psyche speaks in paradox — one part longs to move forward, another holds back; one delights in Christmas bustle, another yearns for the holy silence of Bethlehem.

In this December salon, Jungian coach and typology scholar Dr. Vicky Jo Varner invites us to explore these inner opposites through image-making, dialogue, and reflection. Working with John Beebe's eight-function model of consciousness, we will discover how typology becomes a living process rather than a fixed label — a way of witnessing the psyche's own search for balance and renewal.

No artistic skill or prior typological knowledge required — only curiosity and openness to discovery.

FREE

Found, rue Jean-Dassier 7, 1201 Genève